ABOUT US

Cyberia is a leader among medical disposable products companies in worldwide. The company was created by CEO in 2020: after a years working the chemical-medical field , CEO decided to create a new company dedicated to designing and supplying of medical disposable products. Cyberia was founded in jordan, in Amman

Today Cyberia is recognised both in jordan and iraq and abroad as one of the leading companies in the trading of medical disposable products for various sectors: medical, dental, sports, promotional and mass retail. Our company offers major international distributors both cyberia branded and Private Label products, creating customised lines of disposable products.

OUR MISSION

Cyberia designs its disposable products internally, developing the materials, the technologies and the production processes, as well as all the quality control systems.

This allows Cyberia's internal Research and Development department to guarantee the highest quality across the whole range of disposable products destined for different sectors - medical, dental, sports, promotional and mass retail.

Thanks to our design and continual research and development, we are able to offer both Cyberia-branded products and personalised and customised lines for major international companies.

For Cyberia, customising a product does not just mean printing brands or logos on the products or packaging, but also being able to modify packaging types and sizes and even the format of the product itself on request. For our company, therefore, relation with our distributors both in Iraq and abroad is fundamental, and we consider them not just clients but partners.
